CARNIVAL MATTERS

Carnival Committee is Reorganized and Some New Arrangements Made.

The carnival crew met last night and completed arrangements for the carnival.

The committee has been at loggerheads with each other, it seems, and matters have been mixed. Happily the tangibles have been straightened out and it is hoped harmony will prevail.

The committee will build the booths which will be constructed along the curbing and will be sold for $35 if furnished by the committee, or $50 if the lessee makes his own booth.

There will be no carnival king. Several days ago when the committee authorized the Daily Leader to publish the queen coupon it was expected to have a carnival king also, the capital to publish the coupon for king. Since then the committee has decided to do away with the king, and hold a vote on the queen alone. The queen coupon will therefore appear in both the Daily Leader and the State Capital.

In order to vote for the carnival queen the coupons must be cut from either the Leader or Capital, and deposited with Secretary Douglas.

A committee consisting of Messrs. I. Levy and W. S. Spencer will count the same at 8 o'clock each evening and the result will be published in both papers. The contest for the election of queen is to end on October 2 at 6 o'clock p. m.

The Daily Leader and State Capital will present the queen with a costume costing $100.

All the coupons cut from the Daily Leader thus far have been placed in the hands of Secretary Douglas and will be counted.

The Daily Leader is sold at 5 cents a copy. By paying this price one can get as many papers as he chooses. Every coupon, however, must be cut out and the name of the person voted for written on the coupon, which must then be taken or sent, not to the Leader office, but to Secretary Douglas' office, where the ballots will be counted by the carnival committee.

The papers will have nothing to do with this contest. The whole matter is in the hands of the carnival committee.

The lucky queen will receive a $100 dress.

Preserve the ballots you have cut from the Leader and deliver them to Secretary Douglas.

President is Resting.

TREASON AS A TRADE

Col. Cardier Says French Officers make a Business of Selling Secrets.

Scripture-McRae League.

Reims Aug. 28.—This was another Dreyfus day. Lieutenant Colonel Cardier, retired, who was a member of the intelligence bureau at the time Dreyfus was there, occupied most of the time of the court martial. His testimony was strongly in favor of the accused. De Freycinet, the former minister of war, testified regarding the foreign syndicate, "reported to have been formed to fight for Dreyfus' freedom."

He admitted frankly he had no basis for the statements. Cardier testified that once he believed Dreyfus was guilty, but later he was convinced that there was no proof of guilt, and that certain facts pointed to his innocence. The salient of Cardier provoked frequent laughter in which Dreyfus joined for the first time since the trial commenced.

He asserted that the foreign officers know that some French officers make a regular business of treason. Cardier said he was opposed to the Jews in army, but he was not in favor of bringing false evidence against the one charged with treason.
